

Candy finds show business a lot of fun

Candy Barnes

PORT ST. LUCIE—Seven-year old Belle Glade model Candy Barnes' two-year-old modeling career reached its height (so far) last weekend when the little blonde worked for three days here on a Dinah Shore Show segment which will be aired in January.

Candy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley

Barnes of 832 S. E. Fourth St., said she didn't think the three days of work which ended in the dark and rain was anything but fun though, saying she particularly enjoyed meeting and having her picture taken with the star of the show.

"I only got to say my name and have my picture taken," Candy said of her interview with Miss Shore but said she had fun the whole weekend, which began Friday and ended Monday, particularly the segment filmed aboard a boat.

Mrs. Barnes said Candy was the only girl chosen along with two boys from 50 children by Maizie Murphy Kline Modeling Agency in West Palm Beach for the show, which will display spring fashions from a number of top designers.

"I just told my name and did some little modeling steps," Candy remembered of the interview session, when she was chosen by New York choreographer Ethel Martin as one of three small children and 17 older models to pose in the new fashions.

Although Candy was supposed to have modeled four outfits in four different scenes, Mrs. Barnes said time ran out and one, showing Candy and Dinah building sand castles at the beach, was scrubbed.

The three scenes left included one on a yacht, one at the Sandpiper Bay Club swimming pool and a disco scene.

"We'll probably try to stop the television set for the three seconds she'll probably be on in January," Mrs. Barnes said. She said the exposure time on camera may not be much but it should prove good experience for Candy, who said she has already decided she wants to get into some part of the entertainment field, "but I haven't made up my mind yet," in exactly what area.

As young as she is, however, this wasn't the first time the seven-year old has posed professionally. She has already been photographed for Saks of Fifth Avenue, New Yorker Magazine and Town and Country magazine.

She and her older sister, Nickie also are members of a singing group called the Caporettes, organized by their voice coach, Dianne Courtney in West Palm Beach. Mrs. Barnes said Miss Courtney is a friend of Dinah Shore.

And when it was all over Sunday night, Candy said that not only did she have fun doing the modeling job, she also likes the pay that went with it. She said her father had already told her she could buy two toys with her earnings and she would have to bank the rest.

And what does she intend to get? "Mmmm, I'll have to think about that," she said as her mother laughed, she still hasn't made up her mind what she wants for Christmas.

South Bay Police Dept. dissension is laid bare

SOUTH BAY—An apparently long-standing smoldering dissension within the South Bay Police Department flared into the open during a city commission working session called Tuesday night by Police Commissioner Vernita Cox.

Mrs. Cox said she called the meeting to provide a hearing as requested by a CETA-Manpower employed dispatcher who Chief Willie Wisper, Jr. had fired last week.

Cynthia Wright was terminated, according to her personnel action report, for insubordination but there was some question about whether that was the real reason.

Mrs. Cox said Wisper told Mayor Billy Wells he fired Ms. Wright because she was "causing fights within the department" but he told her (Mrs. Cox) he terminated the woman because she "had gotten fresh with a commissioner's wife" and that she was using profanity in the dispatcher's room.

She said the commissioner's wife called her, however, and said Ms. Wright hadn't "gotten fresh" with her and Ms. Wright told the commission Tuesday night she felt

Bank to open Saturdays

BELLE GLADE—Banking services will be available to customers of the Bank of Belle Glade six days a week, beginning this Saturday, through the season, according to Bank President Wayne Mikell.

Mikell said the bank's drive-in window tellers will be open for business as usual at 9:30 a.m. Saturday and will remain open through 12:30 p.m., setting the trend for Saturday banking services to be offered through April 29.

"This will be the first time in many years a bank in the Glades has provided Saturday service," he said. "It's a service we believe is badly needed during the season and it's a trend in the industry. About one third of the banks in the county are open on Saturdays now."

Mikell said the season normally brings longer work hours, more people in town, larger payrolls and larger and more deposits by merchants, necessitating the extended service.

He said all the normal teller services such as deposits, check cashing and providing change will be provided every Saturday during the season.

Traffic, garbage woes discussed

BELLE GLADE—Advised their suggestion last month to survey merchants on whether to one-way Avenues A and B was bearing fruit, members of the Mayor's Advisory Committee tackled the problems of a traffic signal at Avenue B and Main Street and dumpsters in the Southwest section.

When Mayor Tom Altman

mentioned the city commission is now considering a reversal of the decision to one-way the downtown streets, Committee Member Rodney Connell said he thinks there should still be a traffic light installed at Avenue B and South Main.

Altman said the signalization has been discussed so far only in conjunction with the planned one-way and he wasn't sure it would still be permitted without that one-way.

James "Candy Man" Smith agreed with Connell, commenting there has been a "tremendous increase in the amount of traffic over the last few years" and a signal at the intersection, even if it's only a flashing caution light, is needed.

Altman said the matter could be investigated but said the one-way question would probably have to be resolved before the signal could be addressed.

Carrying the discussion of roads a step further, Frank Teets asked if the possibility of four-laning Airport Road from SR 80 to Sugar Mill Road, Teets recalled a comment made earlier in the evening by City Clerk June Boglioli that sometimes it takes up to ten minutes to get onto Airport from one of the side streets.

The committee members agreed the traffic situation is particularly bad during the afternoon shift change at the Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida.

Following discussions on the city lot mowing program and the proposed solid waste facility, James Hyneman asked Altman if there was a possibility he could supply the committee with a list of problems the city now faces with no solutions in sight.

"I have one problem for you right now," Altman replied, agreeing to supply the list. "What do we do with those green dumpsters in the streets?"

"Paint 'em red," Hyneman said, and other committee members commented that may be the only answer unless some off-street sites for them can be found.

Committee Member Jerry Roberts said he has asked former

West area jury trials to begin December 5

BELLE GLADE—On December 5, the first of the long-awaited jury trials in the Glades will be held before County Judge Don Adams, the Belle Glade Rotary Club was told Tuesday at their regular luncheon meeting.

The first docket includes 19 cases, all criminal, and three of these are felonies, Judge Adams told the local Rotarians.

He discussed the concept of jury trials with the Rotarians, noting that no civil cases will be heard initially because of the need not to "rush into too much too fast."

Judge Adams said all cases, civil and criminal as well as circuit, can be tried in the Glades and said he didn't feel there would be any problems with the new system.

He noted that there were those who felt problems would result in the court's handling of juvenile cases, but this has not happened.

Judge Adams told the Rotarians anyone who wished to have their felony tried in the Glades could do so by simply requesting a jury here.

In the selection of a jury, Judge Adams said jurors are selected at random by computer and said the only people called to jury duty on the coast from the Glades since October 1 have been called to Grand Juries.

My guess is that the federal government has simply run out of ways to give away money, so somebody in the upper murky depths of the government hit upon a new and different means.

"Tell you what," he (or she) must have said from behind a desk newly varnished, "let's give $5 million dollars to poor ole Houston, Texas by getting up a convention of women and calling it the International Women's Year Conference."

So that's what they did. And the 5,000 delegates from across this great land met in Oiktown this past weekend and voted huge support for the Equal Rights Amendment and other causes.

Guess it's about as good a way to give away money as any. Better than some of the programs now going on, too.

But it doesn't make the bitter taste go away.

The International Women's Year Conference was billed as being a cross section of women from throughout the land who would meet, vote, and determine the direction of women in this country.

It fell far short of that goal. What it was amounted to a group of invited ERA supporters who surprised nobody. And spent a whole of a bunch of our money in legislative, something. Liberty confirmed after the talk.

Across town, another group of women were meeting. This group did not enjoy the federal tax money giveaway, paying their own lodging and expenses. And they objected to the ERA and other platforms.

But maybe it's not too late. The federal government can still ask the FBI on them, fine all the delegates, and reimburse them for their time and trouble.

And based on the great $5 million giveaway, I think all other special interest groups who hold a convention should put in their plea for federal party money.

Also forming one such group. The Lake Okechobee Society of Football Fans. At our convention, to be held in the Super Dome in New Orleans during the Super-bowl, we'll come up with the direction of football fans in the years ahead. Our convention costs will be modest $3 million and we'll have a good time playing delegates.

We anticipate we will receive such money, based on the Women's Year Conference decision, and also agree that all other groups such as us and the ERA supporters are entitled to federal funds.

There are those who say we can "break" the federal bank, but since the feds print the money, they can always increase the press run and make us all happy.

And in other news, it would appear the population of New England is desperately trying to come to Palm Beach County.

According to figures on migration just released by the Palm Beach County Planning Board, 30,887 people from New England moved to our lovely area in the past five years.

Leading the charge was New York, contributing 13,027 of its citizens. Only 1,768 went back. Which may tell you something. In second place, dragging, was New Jersey with migration of 6,026.

Wyoming contributed the least number of citizens, with only seven choosing the sun over the snow. But nobody from the county moved to that state, although $3 chose to live in the even more refrigerated state of Alaska.

These and other interesting facts are all contained in the data recently published by the Board. It's the best planning guide I've ever seen. And it's also very useful.

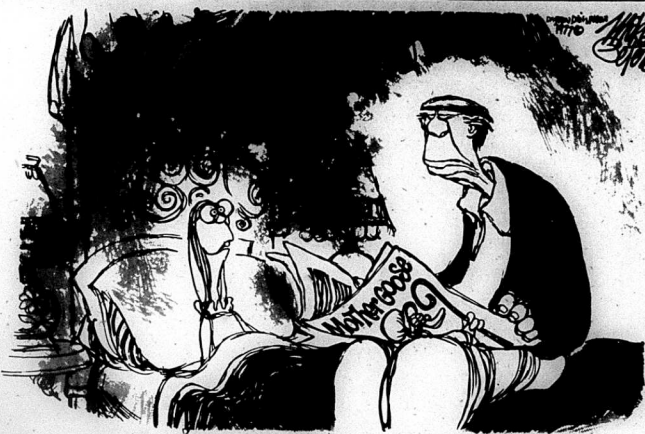

For instance, when I plan to move, I can plan to move to Wyoming because it appears there are very few people dissatisfied with that state since so few are leaving it.

And better yet, Wyoming's appeal hasn't gotten around yet, because even fewer are moving there.

I've always said there were two places in this country I wanted to live in before I die. South Florida was the first because of the good things here and the Rockies were second because of the vista.

I've tried one and found it so good I'm beginning to have my doubts as to whether or not I'll ever get around to trying out the second.

Opinion

NO, NO... READ THE HUMPHREY-HAWKINS BILL AGAIN.

They're not the same

Wally Orr, president of the FTP-NEA (Florida Teaching Profession-National Education Association) was within his rights to announce the teacher union's opposition last week to Florida Education Commissioner Ralph Turlington's statement that children with special handicaps may be awarded special education diplomas.

But whether Orr's opposition is correct is another question. There's no question a handicapped student should take pride in his or her achievement by completing a course of study despite a handicap but there is considerable question that student's diploma should be the same if it doesn't represent the same standards of excellence achieved by another student excelling in the traditional academic curriculum.

At one time Florida high school students could graduate with one of three kinds of diplomas, earning sheepskins for college preparatory curricula, business education or general diplomas. That was before the trend toward homogenization set-in and the powers that were decreed there would only be one kind of diploma...which made it virtually meaningless.

There are now four ways a graduate can go, including an honors diploma, a general education diploma, a special education diploma or a certificate of attendance.

And it isn't hard to envision which way a prospective employer would go if he were faced with a person with a special education diploma and one with a certificate of attendance.

It isn't hard to figure out either why there is a move afoot to modify the functional literacy test as it applies to exceptional education students. It's the same reason there has been a groundswell of resentment against the Adult Performance Level test instituted last year in Palm Beach County.

It's the same philosophy that led to the homogenization of education in the first place. "Let's not label a student as not being capable or willing to reach the standards set for a given goal. That would be a traumatic experience and it isn't good for the psyche."

So we shove everyone through 12 years of school, and, ready or not, out through a graduation line...and then wonder why we have so many high school graduates who can't read.

Good vibes

When almost 2,000 high school kids can get together and provide music and entertainment enough to keep a stadium full of people from all over five counties happy, that's got to be a red letter day for Belle Glade.

That was the case Saturday night when Glades Central High hosted the District 12 Bandmasters contest and 1,981 students representing 19 high schools from as far north as Fort Pierce, as far south as Miami and as far west as Moore Haven.

The first bands were on the field as early as 6 p.m. and the last ones didn't leave until after 10:30 p.m. In between, the guests who packed the north grandstand were treated to music, marching and dancing by bands ranging in size from Suncoast's 41 member band to Boca Raton's huge 201 member unit.

Oh, re-e-eally?

Our first reaction of astounding disbelief Monday when we heard the news Larry Flynt had been converted by Billy Carter's sister, Ruth Carter Stapleton, and was going to change the format of Hustler magazine from sex to religion quickly changed to one of, "We'll believe it when we see it."

We're still maintaining a healthy skepticism but on reflection, stranger things have happened and maybe it just goes to show truth is indeed stranger than fiction.

write or do more than the simplest form of arithmetic.

And we wonder why we have growing welfare lines and double digit unemployment while jobs go begging to the point the taxpayer is called upon to underwrite job training courses for unfortunates who have no skills, including the ones their high school diplomas say they have, and in some cases, the skills their college degrees say they have.

The sad thing is that so many of today's kids could and would reach the standards set, even when they're high, if they're only given the chance and the incentive. It's been proven too many times.

But when someone is told often enough there's no way he can reach those standards because he's had a disadvantaged childhood, sooner or later, he'll eventually begin to believe in his own deficiencies and just give up.

After all, why try harder for something when it's going to be given to you anyway?

Snort or sneeze

Scientists with the U.S. Agricultural Research Service report pepper has a promising future as a safe, naturally occurring insecticide, saying they've found that black pepper and its alcoholic extract are toxic to rice and cowpea weevils that infest stored food products.

Well, sure and we can see why too. Either the weevils sneeze themselves to death on the pepper itself or drink themselves to oblivion with the pepper booze.

But it's a sure bet someone's going to have something to say about the operation...like the ASPCA, maybe, raising-cane about cruelty to the little critters.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir:

November has been set aside as National Diabetes Month. However, you, as well as most everyone else, are probably unaware of this since one of our country's most serious diseases seems to be always overlooked except for persons and families immediately involved with this disease for which each individual concerned must learn to live with and spend their lives if they are among the fortunate to live. These people cannot eat when they want or whatever they want, along with maintaining a daily regime of insulin injections or oral medications if they are among those which oral medication is effective.

I am asking the people of our community to attempt to make themselves more aware of this dreaded disease as it is the most neglected as far as research and government funding for same is concerned. Please keep this in mind the next time you donate to a cause that you assume will help medical research in all fields as this is not the cause.

I would like to donate as my part to the diabetics in our area a recipe I am sure they will enjoy among the holidays when most often they must watch while others enjoy the special treats most everyone looks forward to.

Sincerely yours,
Judi W. Tremain, M.T.

CRACKER CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

Some people have a knack for words and I'm never too surprised when I run into one of 'em and find out he's either in politics or considering the jump.

Like the comment I heard-the other night from Ray Liberty when he said he refuses to call the Town of Palm Beach anything-but East Palm Beach.

There was group of us around wetting our throats and contemplating the vagaries of life after Ray had finished a talk to the Florida Society of Farm Managers and Rural Appraisers, something I was sort of underwhelmed about when I was asked to cover it, especially since it was in Clewiston and that's sorta off my beaten path.

Turned out to be one of those things you're glad you got talked into when it was all over though. It mighta take place in Hendry County but Liberty's whole talk coulda been of interest to any farmer working in Western Palm Beach County.

Ray, by the way, made no bones that county planners are beginning to appreciate the economic impact being made by agriculture.

More interesting to me though, was the fact Homer Hand had told me Liberty was thinking seriously about running for the state legislature, something Liberty confirmed after the talk.

Anyhow, comments like the one he made about East Palm Beach should be guaranteed to win him some friends throughout the county-just about anywhere but in Palm Beach, or should I be saying East Palm Beach?

And it's comments like that can make a politician, something like, "Thou shalt not hang us on a cross of gold," made by William Jennings Bryan; or Sherman's "If drafted, I will not run and if elected, I will not serve," or "I stand behind Mr. Eagleton one thousand percent," a la McGovern.

One of these days, though, I want to hear it like it is from politicians. "I want to be elected to the state legislature because of the graft. Graft is great and I could use some."

Or how about, "Yeah, I think the county ought to set up a censor board. All those trashy movies have an adverse effect on our beloved children and someone has to take on the task of protecting the youngsters...besides, I get my kicks out of lookin' at movies of nekkid wimmen."

Then, too, we could always catch a broadcast made by the president, a candidate, or a member of congress, treated on with a dose of sodium pentothol on the sly admitting over national television that he wants the job, because I always wanted to be able to tell 220 million people how they're gonna live, people how Besides, power in general turns me on.

As any rate, politics and politicians are regular and they'd be funny if they didn't have such a direct effect on my pocketbook.

As it is, I agree with Jimmy Buffett's comment that if we didn't laugh we'd all go insane, and sometimes I ain't too sure we haven't all gone insane anyway.

Think about it. What group of sane people would sit down and in all sanity decide a small group of people in the overall group who are too sorry to get out and hump for a living have a right to expect the rest of the group to support them in the manner in which they wish to become accustomed.

And along those same lines, what kind of sanity is it that lets the vast majority of people go along with a few old men in Washington who decide there oughta be a war and we oughta send the youngsters over to fight it...not to mention die in it.

It would make sense if the idea is to cut down on the population explosion so the rest of us who happen to survive can have a better life.

It's enough to make you want to live in a cave on side of a mountain and roll rocks down on anyone who tries to come up to visit.

That's the kind of politics I can relate to.

Lions may get own blood bank

BELLE GLADE—Janet Kennan and Pat Seawalt from Glades General Hospital were present at the Lions Club meeting Wednesday, Nov. 9 at the Civic Center, to speak about the blood bank at the hospital and to urge people to donate the badly needed blood.

Ms. Kennan and Ms. Seawalt showed a short film on the simple operation of donating blood and then Ms. Kennan spoke to the members about it.

Only 3 percent of the people in the United States donate blood and the requirements to be a donor have nothing to do with it.

Donors must be in good health and between the ages of 17 and 66, after age 66 a written consent of a physician within two weeks prior to donation is required.

The only causes for permanent rejection are heart disease, hepatitis, epileptic convulsions, bleeding abnormalities, existing cancer and kidney disease.

On Mondays from 1 to 9 p.m. at Glades General Hospital Ms. Kennan is there to draw blood from any donors and the entire operation takes from 45 minutes to one hour.

The Lions Club of Belle Glade is trying to open a blood account. 25 units of blood have to be collected a year after the account is open in from this since they will be able to order to actively maintain it. The receive free blood as long as the members' families' will benefit account is kept open.

Too often, after we have given thanks and partaken in a bountiful Thanksgiving meal, we go, a typical following day after effect—indigestion. This occasional upset due to overindulgence is usually no cause for alarm and may safely be treated with a variety of familiar non prescription remedies.

But, there are digestion situations that call for immediate medical attention: any single time of severe or persistent discomfort, especially if accompanied by sweating, weakness or breathlessness; any single time accompanied by vomiting of blood; and repeated indigestion—no matter how mild.

THE FIRST PALM BEACH COUNTY Glades field day Monday saw 60 citizens of the "coast" visiting in the Glades to learn more about "the other side" of the county. Those attending the field day included

ASCS plans due Dec. 1

All farmers in Palm Beach County who certify their crop and land use acreage on all 1977 cropland will be eligible to participate in 1978 program benefits. This also includes farmers who did not have allotments in past years.

Certifying refers to reporting acreage on a field-by-field basis and applies to farmers who wish to participate in the voluntary farm programs. These reports must be received in the county ASCS office by Dec. 1 to allow time for the normal crop acreage to be established for each farm by the county ASCS committee.

The programs that may become available to eligible producers include the 1978 loan, deficiency and disaster programs administered by ASCS.

Farmers may not have needed to certify crop acreages last year but we want to emphasize that they do need to contact the ASCS office about their 1977 crop acreages this year if they play to participate in 1978 programs.

Applicants for all ASCS programs will be given equal consideration without regard to race, color, sex, creed or national origin.

Area students take tour on Fisheating Creek

FISHEATING CREEK—"Look what I found," Pahokee High student Lawrence Sullivan says, displaying with pride a dried snake skin, while teacher Jeff Given of Glades Central holds the real thing, a small, but live, pygmy rattler.

It wasn't your run-of-the-mill school day, not at all. And it wasn't your normal classroom setting. Beginning at 9:30 a.m. last Friday, students from schools surrounding Lake Okechobee found themselves in the wilderness, among tall, aging trees, insects, animals and land once inhabited by Indians.

They were competing in an Ecology meet sponsored by the Corps of Engineers, the second such meet held by the Jacksonville District, as a pilot program. The first Eco-Meet for this district was conducted Tuesday, Nov. 15 near Rodman Dam which is located 12 miles south of Palatka, just off State Highway 19.

The Friday Eco-Meet was held at Fisheating Creek, about seven miles north of Moore Haven on Route 78. Students were arranged in squads for varsity (grades 9-12), Jr. Varsity (grades 6-8) and Nature Sleuth (grades 1-5).

Varsity squad members came from Pahokee, Glades Central, Clewiston, LaBelle and Moore Haven High Schools. Jr. Varsity squads came from Pahokee and Moore Haven Jr. High Schools and Lakeshore, Clewiston and LaBelle Middle Schools. Nature Sleuths came from East Lake Middle School and Lakeshore, South Bay, Clewiston, LaBelle and Moore Haven Elementary Schools.

It wasn't uncommon during the one-day meet to see kids chasing armadillos, or coming up with berries or skeletons seeking their identifications.

The great expanse of land is privately owned by Lykes Brothers and inhabited by cattle, deer and turkeys as well as lemon and orange trees. Not only students but teachers, administrators and west area superintendent H.W. (Dick) Berryman was also treated to a taste of the fresh oranges.

Among the sites on the land was a series of mounds built around 400 B.C., according to one Corps of Engineers guide. He said the Caloosa Indians once settled there. Dr. Paul Sears of Florida Atlantic University conducted a series of archeological digs on the mounds from 1968 through 1975, uncovering layers of animal and human bones, among other findings.

Breaking for lunch, the guide

announced, "and if you want to touch a 2,000 year old piece of wood, there it is."

Walking along paths that were once surrounded by water, the guide said the meet "gets kids out of the classroom and lets them see nature." He noted with interest, after pointing out higher levels of ground, that "even back then, the Indians were practicing a form of flood control, building dikes and levees." Indians inhabited the area for approximately 1,000 years, he said.

One of the events in which the varsity teams participated was orienteering. Each team had 35 minutes to locate ten points marked on an aerial map, using a compass. The groups were oriented at the initial send-off point, given a direction in which to go. After that, they were on their own. At each point, the students found a stake with a message attached. At the end of the event, if all points were located, the messages, together, would form a sentence.

The squads also participated in a scavenger hunt, wildlife sign identification, wildlife tracks, vegetation identification, reptile and amphibian identification and oral interpretation.

The town coming up with the most points was LaBelle with 313, then Clewiston with 288, Pahokee with 277, Belle Glade with 270 and Moore Haven with 224. Though this was the first Eco-

Meet for the Jacksonville District, other Corps Districts have been conducting them with great success. "Eco-Meets will enable us to become involved with educators and students by offering a program which stimulates a greater awareness of the environment and, at the same time, encourage future schools to conduct their own educational programs," Colonel Donald A. Wisdom, District Engineer said.

College workshop will be presented

PAHOKEE—On Monday, Nov. 28 at 7:30 p.m. in the school library, the school's advisory committee and the guidance department of Pahokee High School will present a workshop on college costs, financial aid and current college requirements and admissions.

The workshop is designed to assist the parents and students in preparing for college. Due to the current changes in college requirements, this workshop should be beneficial to all parents whose children are planning to attend college, the counselors said.

There will be slide presentations, materials and a question and answer period by Don Cook of Palm Beach Jr. College, main campus and Freddie Harrell of FBCU, Belle Glade campus. All parents and high school seniors are encouraged to attend. Questions concerning the workshop should be directed to the Guidance department of Pahokee Jr.-Sr. High School.

Thanksgiving services set at local church

Familiar words from the 100th Psalm will be read November 24 at all Thanksgiving services of Churches of Christ, Scientist.

"Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all ye lands... Enter into his courts with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise: be thankful unto him, and bless his name."

These services are a traditional annual worship occasion in branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

Hebe in Belle Glade services of First Church of Christ, Scientist, at S.E. Ave. E and First St. will be held at 11:00 a.m. Thanksgiving Day morning. The service will include reading of the Thanksgiving Proclamation of the President of the United States and a Bible Lesson-Sermon on the subject of Thanksgiving. No collection will be taken. Everyone in the community is welcome to attend.

Among citations also read from the denominational textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following:

"To keep the commandments of our Master and follow his example, is our proper debt to him and the only worthy evidence of our gratitude for all that he has done. Outward worship is not of itself sufficient to express love and heartfelt gratitude, since he has said: 'If ye love me, keep my commandments.'"

Gayle Palmer, First Reader and Catherine Deaton, Second Reader will conduct the service, which also includes testimonies of gratitude by church members.

members urged to protest action

The president of Florida Farm Bureau Federation (FFBF) has urged Presbyterians members to protest their ministers and object to a Presbyterian church proposal that would give $30,000 to the United Farm Workers' Union (UFW).

"The $30,000 would be used to pay salaries and expenses to UFW organizers in the coming season," said Walter J. Kautz, FFBF president.

Farmers who are Presbyterians were urged to insist that St. Johns Presbytery disapprove the proposal at its meeting in Sanford on Nov. 22.

Westminster Presbytery, in Lutz, last month defeated the proposal 118-57.

"A church simply has no place supporting the interests of a labor union," said Kautz. "We hope our members will bring this matter to the attention of their congregations so their views can be made known," he said.

Christian Comments

Thanksgiving is a time of remembrance. It is a time of looking back and thanking God for all that he has done. Thanksgiving is not of American origin. Being thankful is certainly not something unique. It is recorded in the book of Exodus that the children of Israel, pausing in their wanderings in the wilderness and set aside a day of Thanksgiving.

This was carried on in the tradition of the Jewish people by King David as he wrote his beautiful songs of Lament to God in Thanksgiving. David said, "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills from whence cometh my help." David realized his dependency upon God as he said "The Lord is my refuge and my strength." All the psalms of David are in some ways songs of Thanksgiving or adoration to God thanking Him for the past, present and future.

We also find that Jesus was a very thankful person. The scriptures tell of him giving thanks for the food he ate and the spiritual strength that came from his heavenly Father. The passover which preceded the Lord's Supper, which was a prelude of his betrayal and crucifixion was a time of Thanksgiving. For in the time of Lent as they celebrated the passover feast, it was a recollection and thanksgiving to God. Not only for the death angel who went through Egypt, taking the firstborn of those not having their doors marked with blood, but it was Thanksgiving to God for leading them out of bondage of the Egyptians into the promised land.

By Bill Anderson
Pastor First Baptist Church of South Bay

How our forefathers must have felt like the wandering Jews as they came to a new world for a new beginning. How grateful they must have been for their very existence and survival even though they had lost loved ones suffered sickness and constant hostility from the Indians that surrounded them. We can easily recognize that while our pilgrim forefathers were grateful for crops and a new world they were also grateful for a new beginning. Thanksgiving is not just the fourth Thursday of each November once a year, it is everyday of our life with Sunday being set aside as a coming together to show God our thankfulness. We are not to look back on what God has done but to look at the future of each coming week and to access personal goals that will bring our lives to be more meaningful for God.

Vida Cristiana Latina

ESCRIBE: JOSE ANTONIO GARCIA

Que hallaria usted en una excursión a la capital de México? Primero la emoción de lo preparativo, un viaje en avión atravesando el golfo de México, y después uno de los aterrizajes mas impresionantes, por estar la ciudad dentro de un círculo de montañas y a gran altura sobre el nivel del mar.

En la llegada al aeropuerto usted se da cuenta de ser una ciudad muy visitada pues hasta aviones con la hoz y el martillo hacen su presencia. Después de recorrer la ciudad y visitar el museo de antropología y las pirámides, usted ve la marca milenaria de la religión sobre el pueblo indio desde los días de los aztecas, y después los de la conquista española.

El pueblo mexicano desde los días de su vida primitiva ha vivido cautivo de las religiones que han pasado su suelo, pasando por los toltecas, aztecas y otras tribus que hacían sacrificios humanos, y sin una fe espiritual, para ver lo abominable de estos hechos, al ofrecer estas vidas humanas A LOS DEMONIOS y no a Dios; un ejemplo de ello fue: El sanguinario rey Ahuizotl, sacrificio 2000 prisioneros en la inauguración de uno de sus templos. (Vea el Diccionario Larousse pag. 1348 sobre la historia de México)

Pero acaso se liberaron estos mejicanos primitivos de las garras cruentas de la religión? Tenemo que dar un enfático NO!, pues que trajeron los españoles? Con ellos vino el llamado "Santo Oficio" o sea la inquisición, que por hacerse en el nombre de Dios y de Cristo tacitamente era peor!

Si usted viajó a México, podrá ver que en una de las giras (Tour) por la ciudad lo llevan a uno de los edificios de la época colonial que esta enclavado en el lugar donde estaba el palacio de Montezuma y allí el guía le mostrara los muros de fama internacional pintados por Diego Rivera un que se presenta la "ardida escueta de la historia de México. Una de las partes mas impresionantes fue ver la acción de la inquisición sobre los indios, que se tenían que someter por la fuerza a la nueva creencia "cristiana", por medio de inhumanas torturas que les costaba esto de lo que enseñó Jesucristo, cuando la base de su enseñanza fue el amor al prójimo! Entre las cosas que les hacían estaba el colgarlos de cabeza amarrados por los pies. (Así esta en el mural) y marcarlos con hierros candentes como si fueran bestias.

Pero el pueblo mejicano que se apega a las tradiciones sigue tan cautivo como en aquella época, y muchos hoy decepcionados de la religión están huyendo de la sarten y cayendo en las brasas, el oír la predica de la "Religion Roja" (El Comunismo Internacional) con sus promesas de un mundo mejor, que llevan a cabo sus "misioneros" con su dialectica materialista, y que desgraciadamente esta captando a muchos, y que según las noticias de la radio esta acción no solo llega a las clases ignorantes en incultas sino que ha captado a muchos guías religiosos... (¿Dunque usted...)

Pero también en México decenas de miles han sido alfabetizados y están estudiando la Biblia la palabra de Dios y HOY SON LIBRES y han visto la luz del UNICO camino (Salmo 119:105) hacia la salida a la crisis mundial que sera en Reino de Dios, su gobierno sobre la Tierra, y esto no muy lejano en el futuro. Estos humildes pero liberados mejicanos ven al futuro con optimismo sabiendo que su liberación tanto política como religiosa proviene de las dos grandes autoridades del Universo a saber Jehová Dios y Cristo Jesús por medio de su Reino como ya hemos dicho.

Ellos saben que la Biblia dice que de lo inmundo (EL HOMBRE con sus falsas promesas de paz y de un manana mejor) no puede salir nada limpio. (Lea en su Biblia Job 14:4) solo Dios que no miente y que es infalible dara no solo a los mejicanos sino a toda la humanidad un gobierno justo que es el Reino de Dios!

On Top

The Bible, "God's holy word," is still the best seller, and most quoted book. From the original Greek and Hebrew this book has been translated into many languages.

Through the centuries men have devotedly studied and sought out the truth in the Bible. When one reads the Bible with an open mind, God's word is "as sharp as a two edged sword."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

BELLE GLADE—The Katherine Price Foundation, Inc. of Belle Glade has received a matching grant of $15,000 from the United Thank Offering of the Episcopal Church Women. The money will be used to purchase permanent quarters for the work of aiding persons in the Glades who need food, clothing and shelter.

The Foundation was incorporated in October 1976 and has received tax-exempt status from the IRS as a non-profit corporation. Its purpose is to continue the pioneer work of Mrs. L.L. Price who has given her time and her home to helping those in need in the Glades for the past 30 years.

The progress of the Foundation's first year will be reported at the Annual General Membership Meeting Monday, Nov. 28, at 7:00 p.m. at the Community United Methodist Church, Belle Glade.

GCI men graduate

The Department of Offender Rehabilitation has announced that Glades Correctional Institution employees, Bernard H. LaRock and John Paczak, recently participated in the Correctional Training Institute at Raiford.

This is the 19th CTI group to enroll in the minimum standard curriculum, which is required by law. The Training Institute program is taught in conjunction with Lake City Community College, and the graduates earn nine semester credits for successfully completing the full time, 160 hour course.

The program includes instruction in the Criminal Justice System, Legal Aspects of Corrections, Operational Procedures, Principles of Supervision, Human Relations and Technical Training Skills which include Firearms, First Aid and Fire Fighting Techniques.

The Correctional Training Institute was certified by the Florida Correctional Standard Council (CSC) in May, 1976, as a training center for correctional personnel. The Council was empowered by the Legislature in 1974 to establish minimum standards for the certification of correctional officers and training centers.

A CITY HALL PREVIEW was given to members of the Mayor's Advisory Committee Monday when Mayor Tom Altman (foreground) and City Manager Robert

GCHS band is excellent

BELLE GLADE—Glades Central, Glades Day and Pahokee High Schools all scored excellent on their marching and musical abilities Saturday night when Glades Central hosted 1,981 students representing 19 high schools taking part in the District 12 Bandmasters Contest.

The first bands were inspected at 6 p.m. while visitors were packing the north grandstands and the competition got underway at 6:40 p.m. when the Moore Haven

Terrier band took the field.

The bands were graded on their appearance during inspection, on how well they marched and on their musical abilities. The marching judges, Bob Spradling, Ken Tolbert and Otto P. Beckham, said they neither took nor gave points on dancing but the bands would have to continue playing while dancing, such as in one of the routines performed by the Maroon Machine.

The bands were rated by numbers, 1, 2 or 3 by the judges, indicating they gave superior, excellent or good performances.

Earning superior ratings were Suncoast, Jupiter, Okeechobee, North Shore, Atlantic, Forest Hill, J.L. Leonard, Miami Palmetto and Boca Raton. Excellent ratings were given to Glades Day, Pahokee, Glades Central, Twin Lakes, Palm Beach Gardens, Martin County, Lake Worth, Fort Pierce Central and North Miami, while Moore Haven was rated good.

Committee

City Manager William Mallory about two years ago if there was possibility the dumpsters could be moved off the streets but said Mallory seemed leery of the idea of putting them on private property.

Altman said that could be a problem but still another problem would be that the further the dumpsters are removed from the apartment buildings and businesses who use them, the more likely trash and garbage would be dumped in the streets.

There was no final action on the problem but there was some indication the only solution may be to paint the dumpsters different colors.

Altman also asked the committee members how they felt about the city's water and, after Smith said he buys all his drinking water, said the city has considered several times in the past relocating the raw water intake but said such an action would require considerable public support.

Before the meeting began, Altman and City Manager Robert Sanders gave the committee a preview of the city hall, taking them on tour through the facility Sanders said would probably be occupied about the first of the year.

South Bay

she had been discharged because of her friendship with her supervisor Bernice Jackson.

Ms. Wright said Wisper told her before firing her that she "had been poisoned by Bernice," a statement later corroborated by Mrs. Jackson.

The commissioners heard comments from Ms. Wright, Mrs. Jackson, and Patrolman Frank Moore on the subject, with the general agreement there had been an argument between Ms. Wright and Chief Wisper which ended when Wisper told her to leave the police station before he arrested her.

"This is the picture," Mrs. Cox said. "There's a lot of facts and there is some fiction here. But there's been a lot of unrest in the Police Department and we can't have a good department without harmony."

She said she regretted it but Wisper was out of town and couldn't speak in his own behalf but said the dissension was obviously more widespread than the one personnel action.

When Mayor Wells asked Major Walter Collins if Ms. Wright had ever been insubordinate to him or to any other officer in his hearing, he said he couldn't think of any instances.

Collins said, under questioning, that the fault for the dissension probably rested with himself and Wisper, as supervisors of the department, for "getting off on the wrong foot" and then trying to make the department more professional.

"We have rules and regulations now," he said, "and I've been caught up by them myself but we're all going to have to abide by them. If anyone can't work within the rules, the best thing for them to do is hit the road."

"It seems to me," Commissioner Donald Tanner said, "we have a choice. The chief is the chief and the dispatcher come under him. We can support the chief, we can get a new chief or we can disband the department and let the Sheriff's Office take over the law enforcement."

Commissioner Ray Sullivan said he felt the matter is an internal police department, that Mrs. Cox is the Police Commissioner and he would back her in whatever action she decides to take.

Mrs. Cox said she feels Wisper was wrong, at least in this case, and Ms. Wright deserves another chance. "I have to say I haven't found any grounds for her dismissal. A person has to learn to control himself and the supervisor has to learn to control himself first."

No permanent solution was offered on the general problem but, after Major Collins told the commissioners he had been informed the papers terminating Ms. Wright had already been signed at the Belle Glade CETA office, Mrs. Cox said Ms. Wright would have to ask for a hearing from CETA.

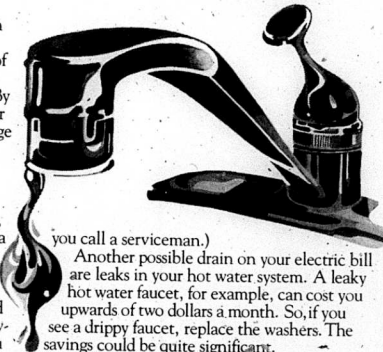

Want to cut down on your electric bill? Check your plumbing.

That's right. Your plumbing. And you can start with your hot water heater. Next to air-conditioning, it's often the second biggest user of electricity in the home.

But its cost can be substantially reduced. By simply adjusting the setting on your water heater thermostat. To 130 degrees. Or, if you have a large family or dishwasher, place the setting at 140. Any higher and you're probably wasting money.

If you insulate your water heater with a blanket of fiberglass, you could save even more. Up to 75¢ a month. It may not sound like much, but every little bit helps. And if you're going on a trip, turn your water heater off until you return. It'll save money. Even if you're away for only three or four days.

(One word of caution, however: before you do anything to your hot water heater, be sure to disconnect the circuit breaker. If necessary, we even suggest you call a serviceman.)

Another possible drain on your electric bill are leaks in your hot water system. A leaky hot water faucet, for example, can cost you upwards of two dollars a month. So, if you see a drippy faucet, replace the washers. The savings could be quite significant.

Some other helpful hints? Take showers instead of baths. A bath uses twice as much water as a shower. And when you shave, or rinse the dishes, don't let the hot water run. You could be pouring a lot of water down the drain. What's more, if you have to replace your shower heads, install flow restrictors to reduce the rate of water flow.

Finally, you can recover wasted heat by utilizing the hot refrigerant gas from the air-conditioner compressor to heat the water. This new technique could eliminate water heating altogether in the summer. But be sure to consult a licensed air-conditioning contractor.

If you'd like some more money saving ideas, ask for our folder "How to Save Money on Your Electric Bill." It's free. At all FPL offices.

Car rallye planned for Dec. 4

BELLE GLADE—Glades drivers will have a chance December 4 to find out how well they know the area and how well they can follow directions when the City Recreation Department sponsors a sports car navigational rallye.

Although it's called a sports car rallye, Recreation Coordinator Frank Mayfield stressed any kind of vehicle can enter and the event has nothing to do with speed. Mayfield said the contest is based on the skill of a driver-navigator team in following directions as they travel the route given in the written instructions, along with the speeds demanded.

He said that to get to any one of the three check points too soon is just as bad as arriving too late.

that the whole idea is to match speeds and times with those laid out in the instructions.

The rallye will begin in the downtown parking lot behind the Ben Franklin Store at 11 a.m. December 4, with registration beginning at 10 a.m. There will be a $3 per car entry fee and Mayfield said the first 50 competitors, both drivers and navigators, will receive small plaques to put on their dashboards to commemorate their participation.

Trophies will be awarded the three teams finishing closest to the prescribed time.

Mayfield said the course laid out is approximately 80 miles, mostly outside town and all on paved roads, and will take approximately two hours to negotiate.

Unlike more sophisticated rallyes, there will be only one class, SOP (seat of pants), and the only aids allowed the teams will be a stop watch and pencil and paper. Mayfield said that none of the more sophisticated tools such as electronic calculators and slide rules would be allowed.

"This is really (City Manager) Robert R. Sanders' idea," Mayfield said. "I've never taken part in one but it ought to be a lot of fun. I wish I could get into it myself."

He said Sanders will be the rallye master and will supervise the whole affair, including the layout of the course.

For tips, Mayfield said early arrivers may have a slight advantage because general instructions, including abbreviations to be used in the course directions, will be given out to participants as soon as they register. Course instructions will be distributed to each team ten minutes before they leave.

The vehicles will leave at one minute intervals and will encounter three checkpoints along the route. Dash plaques and trophies will be awarded in the banquet room of the Municipal Country Club following the rallye.

Further information can be obtained by contacting the Parks and Recreation Department at 996-0191.

Auto parts shop robbed

SOUTH BAY—Strong arm robbers walked into South Bay Auto Supply, Inc. at 101 Palm Beach Road last Friday, bound the sales clerk and helped themselves to a truckload of auto parts.

Palm Beach County Sheriff's Detective Ernest Batista said the investigation is continuing in the robbery following a report two Cuban men attempted to sell a quantity of parts to a store in Dade County. He said Dade police officers were alerted by the store owner there that the two men had come in with a U-Haul trailer loaded with parts they said came from a South Bay store going out of business but a stake-out failed when the two men didn't return.

Batista said the robbery began at 2:30 p.m. Friday when Norberto Vigos, the sales clerk, was caught with his back to the front door and an unseen man grabbed him around the face, ordered him to the back of the store and tied him in a sitting position to some shelves there.

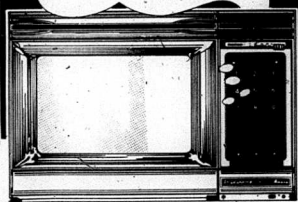

Batista said there were apparently two men at least in the robbery who stole $4,826.16 worth of mufflers, spark plugs, shock absorbers, water pumps and other items.

It was about two hours later, before Vigos was able to loosen himself and call South Bay Police, who secured the scene until deputies could get there.

TOP DRIVERS IN the city-sponsored Sports Car Rallye to be held Dec. 4 will win the trophies being displayed here by City Recreation Coordinator Frank Mayfield and his wife, Lorraine. The trophies can be seen on display between now and the rallye at the Bank of Belle Glade.

I can save you 50%-75% of the electricity that you normally use in cooking!

The reasons it saves so much electricity are simple: The Amana Touchmatic Radarange Microwave Oven does not require pre-heating like an ordinary oven. It cooks with time, not heat. And because it cooks almost everything in about one-fourth the usual time — it is only "on" about one-fourth the time. Obviously, it only uses about one-fourth the electricity.

GLADES DAY QUARTERBACK Tom Duda rolls out on one of the few pass plays he attempted Friday night in the Gator's 42-0 victory over Moore Haven. Glades Day didn't have to pass...the offensive line opened holes throughout the Terrier defense and the ball stayed mostly on the ground. Flanking Duda is Winston Byrd.

Pahokee gets by Raiders in seesaw 6-0 contest

Belle Glade—A holding penalty that called back a 27-yard touchdown pass from David Jones to Ollie Sheppard on the second play in the second quarter, along with five intercepted passes, cost the Glades Central Raiders a chance for their first win over Pahokee and their first winning season, in three years.

Pahokee guard Robert Reeves scored the only points in the Blue Devil's 6-0 victory over the Raiders Friday when he fell on a ball fumbled by Joseph Brown in the end zone early in the third quarter.

An attempt by Devil running back Michael Boldin was stopped by the Raider defense and that was the scoring for the night in a game marked by penalties at crucial times, two turnovers by the Devils on fumbles and seven interceptions, by the Raiders.

Pahokee left the field with a 5-5 season and the first conference win of the season, as well as the Bill Young Trophy for the third consecutive year, and Glades Central walked off with a 4-5 season record.

Reeves' game-winning fumble recovery capped a 70 yard drive following the second half kickoff by Glades Central.

Pahokee's first chance to score was set up early in the first quarter on an interception of a Terry Hammon pass at the Glades Central 38 yard line and failed five plays later when Brown's attempted field goal fell short and the ball went over to the Raiders on their own 20.

The ball swapped hands twice more, once when Alonzo Butts punted out on the Raiders' 43 and again when Butts fell on a Pahokee fumble on his own 30.

The Raiders' best chance to put points on the board began then, with David Robinson picking up nine yards in two carries. Sylvester Knowles powering for another yard to the Raider 40 before a flag on a punt gave the Glades Central a first down on their own 45. A penalty sent the ball back to the 40 two plays later, after two passes failed to connect and Robinson burst through the Blue Devil line for a gain to the Pahokee 45.

It looked as though the Raiders were really on the move when Jones completed a pass to Sheppard at the Pahokee 33. Robinson was stopped at the line of scrimmage on the next play and a flag sent the ball back to the Raider 47 but the yardage was regained when Greg Bain completed a halfback pass to Willie Williams at the Devil 29 and Robinson hit the line for two more yards, setting up the pass from Jones to Sheppard in the end zone.

The ball was called back to the line of scrimmage on a holding

Gators overwhelm Moore Haven 42-0, begin playoff Friday

Sports

With the defeat of the Moore Haven Terrier's 42-0 Friday night, the Glades Day Gators won the District 7 Class A title and will host Miami Palmer Prep this Friday in the first round of the state playoffs.

Head coach Byron Walker said before the game Friday against Moore Haven that whichever team "wanted the most" would be the victor and his charges proved they wanted it very badly.

"They were a better team than that," said Walker. "They just came out flat."

In the first quarter, Glades Day drove down to the Terrier one, from where Winston Byrd dove over for the seven points. Kenny Buckner's kick was wide, but that didn't matter much as on the very next series, Quique Echave went 27 yards for the score. This time, Buckner's kick was good and the quarter ended 13-0.

In the second quarter, Byrd got his second touchdown of the evening on a 15 yard run and Buckner booted the extra point.

With half-time approaching, Buckner kicked a perfect field goal good for 32 yards and just for good measure, the Gators tacked on one more touchdown when Sam Duda, substituting for his brother Tom at quarterback, dove across from the one. The half ended 29-0.

In the second half, the Gators began substituting freely but in the fourth quarter, Tom Duda got a touchdown on a three yard run and Franco Ramos added still one more for an ending score of 42-0.

As for the defense, it was one more shutout in a season that has seen their opponents held to a less than 110 yard offensive average.

Leading the defense was Howard Ayres who had six tackles and four assists. He was backed up amply by Bruce Seet, Ken Strickland, Winston Byrd, and Doug Tanner, who came off the bench this week from a previous injury.

Against the Terriers, the defense held the Moore Haven team to five first downs (most made in the second half) and a total of 57 yards. The Gators also recovered two Terrier fumbles, losing only one themselves.

Defensive coach Tony Rodriguez said what has made the defense go this year are the excellent efforts of the ends, linebackers, cornerbacks, and safeties.

On offense, the standout had to be Echave, who carried 13 times for 123 yards and one touchdown. Byrd, who has been the Gator workhorse all year, scored twice.

In all, Walker estimated the Gators were in possession of the ball three fourths of the game.

completely dominating Moore Haven throughout the evening.

"Our defense dominated the Moore Haven offense and our offense completely dominated their defense," said Walker. "Our interior offensive linemen just blasted them away and allowed us to move easily up the middle."

Walker also praised his recent junior varsity transfers. "They are young and they made mistakes," he said, "but they held up their positions very well."

Transfer Jason Shelton was praised for his two unassisted tackles he made on kickoffs.

Before the game began, the Gators paid homage to their PAHOKEE-Lair Field will be the scene for the Friday night Region 8 clash between the Pahokee Blue Devils and Fort Lauderdale Pinecrest.

Pahokee enters the contest with a 5-5 record which includes the most recent 6-0 win over Glades Central. Pinecrest brings a 10-0 record to the contest and is currently ranked number two in the state, Class AA.

Pahokee, winner of the District 15 title, has not lost to a Class AA team this season.

Younger set wraps up season

Belle Glade—Some of the 'big boys' may be going on to the regional playoffs in the Glades, but football for the younger set came to an official end Monday night when the Lions outscored the Devils in a 14-6 championship free-for-all.

The game capped the Belle Glade Little League Football Association, Inc.'s program for eight teams in two age groups, with the Lions winning the senior division while the All-Stars squeaked by Johnny Schlecter's Jets in a 6-0 decision in the 9-11 year old category.

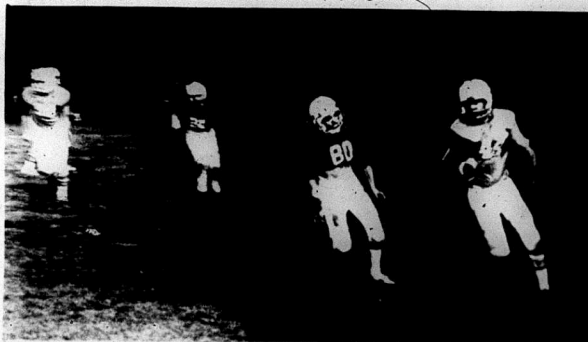

Before the doubleheader, with the half-time crowning of seven princesses, the Jets had amassed: an undefeated season record to go into the all-star game facing six members of each of the other three teams coached by Wayne Meredith, John Hughes, and Butch Browder.

In the senior division for boys ranging from 12 to 14 years in age, the champion Lions, coached by Ron Cameron, had earned a 4-1-1 record while the Devils, coached by Willie Lee, went into the game with a 4-2 record for regular season play.

The other two teams in the senior division were the Gators, coached by Wayne Miners, with a 3-2-1 record and the Bills, coached by Pete Webb, with a 0-6 record.

Cameron said that with taking part in the league this, cheerleaders and all, there were year approximately 200 youngsters.

THE LITTLE LEAGUE GAMES Monday night were as exciting as local high school games as the junior and senior teams battled in a championship doubleheader. Many of those attending the games commented upon how well the youngsters executed their plays throughout the evening. Staff Photo

Search for clear water occupies fishing time

By Nan Corbin

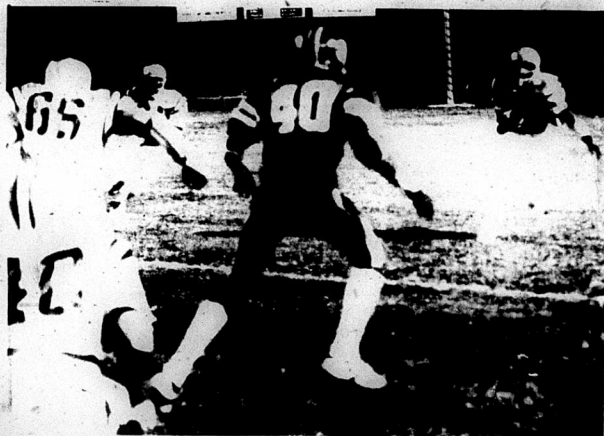

Belle Glade fisherman continued to search for clear water this week as the high winds have stirred up mud in most areas of the lake. Most of the catches reported over the last week were taken around the bullrush in the Long Point and Pelican Bay areas.

Belle Glade fisherman, Ted Weyant, brought in a 7½ pound bass and three smaller ones on Friday.

Ann Herring, Belle Glade, used a plastic worm on Wednesday to take an 8 pounder.

Mike McCormick of Belle Glade used a Hot Spot on Saturday to take a nice bass.

Al Hahn used a weedling on Sunday to take his limit of bass. Pola Griffin took first place in the Everglades Bass Masters of Pompano Beach tournament on Saturday with a catch of 18 pounds.

ROARING AROUND END, Greg Bain picks up yardage in a fruitless attempt to gain joints in the Friday night game as the penalty, however, and the officials ordered the next play at the Raider 43. Another pass failed and Bain punted out to the Pahokee 12 to end the threat.

Glades Central threatened one other time before the half, when the Raiders cranked up a drive on their own 27. Two passes from Jones to Robinson and Sheppard took the Raiders to their own 49 before Robinson ripped off a 37 yard run to the Devils' 14. Robinson next slammed into the line for a one-yard gain but the flag carried the ball back to the 49, giving the Raiders a first and 15, and Bain lost a yard back to the 20. Two passes were incomplete and Alonzo Butts' field goal attempt went wide with 1:27 left in the half.

Following the Devils' score with 7:38 left in the third period, the Raiders seemed to come to life but three runs by Robinson, totalling 68 yards, were nullified by penalties which left the Raiders at their own 24, where an intercepted pass ended the series.

The rest of the game was a see-saw defensive battle with neither team threatening to score again.

Pahokee led the game in every offensive statistic, with 15 first downs to the Raiders' 10, 172 yards rushing to 120, and 82 yards passing to 75.

On defense, the Raiders were led by Preston Vickers with 12 tackles and three assists followed by Eric Beckford with 11 tackles and 11 assists, Don Andrews with 10 and 6, Jeffery Henderson with 8 and 2, Randy Burden, Alonzo Butts and Willie Gibson with 7 and 3 each, Michael Russell with 7 and 1 and Allen Johnson with 5 and 3.

seniors, playing the last regular game of the year. Tom Duda and Elmer Miller shared the captain honors and were backed up by seniors Ken Buckner, Tim Burke, Charles Schiele, Dick Crockett, Franco Ramos, Lee Luce, Keith Holder, Howard Ayres, and Larry Fowler, who played the first five games before being injured.

Walker said he doesn't know a whole lot about Palmer Prep, though they have a 9-1 record. Palmer lost to one AA school, playing two on its regular season schedule. Glades Day played four AA schools, losing to two for its 8-2 record.

Mostly, said Walker, you can look for Palmer to be running a pro set and going to the outside. He said his scouting reports indicate they will be using a lot of quick pitches and they have an ample passing attack they will use if needed.

The Palmer coaches' brother is a 1000-yard season rusher and Walker said he doesn't anticipate making any changes in his offense or defense.

The "state of the Gators" is good for the playoff game, said Walker, with only two players presently on the injury roster. Ken Buckner is still suffering from a separated shoulder, even though he has been playing and will continue to play. The other player is Mark Foster, who is back on the team after recuperating from a pulled muscle, but he's not yet "100%" said Walker.

The Gators are now fifth in the Class A state rankings, coming in only two votes short for third place.

If they win Friday against Palmer, they will take on the winner of the Sarasota Booker-Orlando Trinity game in the central part of the state and if they win there, it'll be the state playoffs, which would be held in Belle Glade.

Atop the Class A rankings in the state is Greensboro, the defending state champions who are boasting a 10-0 season record this year. Miami Palmer Prep is ranked eight on the list.

Thursday night, the Gators will hold a bonfire at 6:30 p.m. at the airport and all Gator supporters are invited to attend.

Turkey shoot is the best in history

PAHOKEE—The Pahokee Lions' Club annual turkey shoot attracted "the best turnout in the history of our turkey shoots," Club President Glenn Browers stated.

Target shooters got away with 66 turkeys over the weekend, Friday through Sunday. The biggest winners were William "Frenchie" Johnson and his son, Carl, whose good aim brought them seven turkeys.

Browers said so many people turned out for the event that they ran out of targets Saturday and Sunday and were forced to make more.

Following the success of this one, another turkey shoot, sponsored by the Pahokee Lions, will be held the weekend before Christmas, December 16 - 18.

PBJC programs are described

PAHOKEE—Fred Harrell of Palm Beach Jr. College, Glades campus, will host a question and answer period Tuesday, Nov. 29 at 10 a.m. in the Pahokee High School auditorium.

All seniors are invited to attend to find out about the programs available at PBJC.
